Morgan is one of “100 Great Supply Chain Partners” for Second Straight Year

Global Logistics and Supply Chain Strategies magazine recognizes Morgan’s leadership in technology, logistics, transportation and consulting services.

Pleasanton, CA, June 22, 2007— D.W. Morgan Company, a leading supply chain consulting, transportation management and logistics services firm, has been included in the prestigious Global Logistics & Supply Chain Strategies “100 Great Supply Chain Partners” (GLSCS) list for 2007. Morgan received the honor this year, based on a nomination from Infinera Corp.; in 2006, Redback Networks nominated Morgan for the award. The yearly program is a result of a six-month poll in which GLSCS asks logistics and supply chain professionals to name vendors and service providers whose technology, logistics, transportation or consulting solutions have made a significant impact on their company’s efficiency, customer service and overall supply chain performance.

“Our high-tech and telecom clients continue to push the limits of what’s possible in manufacturing,” said Morgan CEO David W. Morgan. “Global sales and operations combine with fast product lifecycles to place a value on the information behind the supply chain. We help our customers maintain that critical visibility to control processes and maximize their flexibility.”

Over the past 17 years, Morgan has served as a supply chain consultant, transportation and logistics service provider for many of the Fortune 1000. Major clients have included Infinera, Cisco Systems, Redback Networks/ Ericsson, and Kaiser Permanente. With Morgan's new processes and innovative technologies in place, its clients have been able to dramatically improve efficiency and reduce costs across their supply chains.
