Grant Opperman
President & Chief Strategy Officer
D.W. Morgan Company

As D.W. Morgan's President and Chief Strategy Officer, Mr. Opperman helps to shape the company's unique approach to supply-chain optimization. Morgan works with its clients to build the end-to-end solutions it calls, "Supply on Demand." This eliminates the barriers that typically stifle accurate and swift communications between a company and its suppliers. Mr. Opperman's expertise, together with Morgan's technology, has helped enterprises successfully collaborate with suppliers and customers across the entire supply chain.

D.W. Morgan's technology has been widely recognized within the manufacturing industry and by top global manufacturers. D.W. Morgan earned laureate honors in 2004's Smithsonian / Computerworld Honors awards. Morgan also was recognized in 2005 by Supply and Demand Chain Executive Magazine as the top 100 Supply Chain Solutions Providers. In addition, Cisco Systems chose Morgan as Supplier of the Year in 2003 and 2005 and as the winner of Aberdeen Group's "Best Practices in International Logistics" with client Redback Networks. In 2006, Morgan was named by Global Logistics and Supply Chain Strategies magazine as one of the U.S. "Top 100 Great Supply Chain Partners."

Mr. Opperman has been a featured speaker at many top-level events such as Collaborative Communications Conference, Industry Week's Smart Manufacturing, Electronic Supply Chain Association's Winter Symposium and Cisco Systems' Supplier Global Conference.

Mr. Opperman holds a Master's Degree from Northwestern University and a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Linguistics from Pomona College.
