Todd Traut
Director of Worldwide Operations
& Customer Service
D.W. Morgan Company

Director of Worldwide Operations and Customer Service, Todd Traut, joined D.W. Morgan in June of 2006 as the Western Region Operations Manager and led the establishment of a 31,000 square foot fulfillment warehouse in San Jose, CA. In addition, he oversaw the success of our trucking and freight forwarding operation. He then accepted the opportunity as Director of Customer Service. His key responsibility was to ensure customer success through managing all Morgan customer requirements, including fulfillment, warehousing, transportation/ logistics, and customer service.

Prior to joining Morgan, Mr. Traut was successful at multiple levels during his twelve years at CH Robinson Worldwide. His experience ranges from operations, sales, project management and also as a corporate trainer. In 200, he assisted in the standardization of global operations by becoming the Western Region Intermodal Manager and establishing the Western Intermodal regional office in California.

Mr. Traut graduated with a B.A. in Marketing from Cleveland State University.
